HELD MEMORIAL ARMISTICE DAY

Ex-Service Men Of The County Paraded To Cemetery.

HAD SERVICES AT GRAVES

Prayer And Speech For World War Men. Spirit of Country And Its Armies Well Commemorated.

Ex-service men of the county gathered at the Albert Lentz Post home on York street at 10:30 this morning for their Armistice Day parade, which moved directly out York and Baltimore streets to the National Cemetery, where memorial services were held at the graves of the soldiers who lost their lives in the World War.

There, at the graves of those who gave up their lives "to make the world safe for Democracy," and surrounded by the graves of that host who fought at Gettysburg "that the government of the people, by the people and for the people should not perish from the earth," impressive memorial services were held.

The ceremony was opened by the Rev. N. L. Horn, who led the gathering in prayer. It was a prayer that so much sacrifice shall not have been in vain, but that the world may have been led a little closer to universal peace by the strife that has so long continued.

Dr. Wentz Speaks

This was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. A. R. Wentz, of the Theological Seminary. He opened his remarks by reminding those present that they had gathered there just four years, to the hour, after the signing of the Armistice which had meant the cessation of hostilities in one of the bloodiest wars in history.

"We can have no higher ideals," declared Dr. Wentz, "than to consecrate ourselves to the same cause as that to which those who lie here gave their lives. The same task still lies before us, for the work of Democracy is never done," he said. "Our memorial services here today mean that we are resolved that Freedom and Democracy shall live forever. This nation was born with the Declaration of Independence, and a nation was dedicated to the cause of Freedom. Four score and seven years later, a much larger, but the same nation still, made another declaration of independence when the Emancipation Proclamation was issued.

The Fight For Peace

"Years later, in Cuba, American men, upholding American principles, fought and proclaimed to the world that we stood for Justice. And then, in the Great World War, our men bled, and gave up their lives even as their fathers had done, that the principle of peace, Universal Peace, might bring the people of the earth a little closer to World Democracy.

"Today the whole world looks toward America, and not a nation but longs for even a small part of that

When her husband died several years ago, the home was broken up and she lived with her daughters. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Glass, of near Uriah.

WAS BUSY MARKET

Twenty Stalls Occupied. Buyers Out In Force.

Twenty stalls were occupied this morning when the Gettysburg curb market opened. There was a throng of buyers ready to select the choice offerings of the fall season. Since the colder mornings, however, there is less of a rush at 6 o'clock. The largest crowd was there today between 6:30 and 7. There was no change in the offerings of the last month and all prices were regular. Apples were plentiful and in demand. A half dozen butchers were busy. The usual Saturday morning supply of eggs, butter and chickens were there.

HOT WORDS MARK KRUG HEARINGS

Fred Kottcamp, Prohibition Agent Rises In Wrath At Commissioner's Hearing.

BOTH ACTIONS POSTPONED

Local Counsel Argues That No Prima Facie Case Had Been Shown Against Joseph And Milton Krug.

Marked by numerous clashes between the prosecution and counsel for the defendants, the preliminary hearing in the cases against Milton and Joseph Krug, of Littlestown, charged with violation of the Federal eighteenth amendment, was held Friday afternoon in the Federal building, Baltimore street, before United States Commissioner R. E. Wible, Esq. Fred Kottcamp, of York, acting group head of the seventh Federal Prohibition District, with headquarters in Harrisburg, was especially vociferous in his testimony and on more than one occasion, arose from his chair and pounded on the desk at which Mr. Wible was seated to drive home his arguments. At other times he shook his finger at William Hersh, Esq., and J. Donald Swope, Esq., who represented the Krug brothers.

But Attorneys Hersh and Swope apparently had the better of the arguments as Commissioner Wible was obliged to postpone both actions until Tuesday, November 28, for the prosecution to better prepare its case. By argument, counsel for the defendants clearly proved to Commissioner Wible that the prosecution had not established a prima facie case and that official was forced to concede the point. For that reason, he postponed the hearing until the latter part of November, although both Mr. Hersh and Mr. Swope urged that the action be dropped in view of the lack of sufficient evidence presented by the prosecution. To this, however, Mr. Wible would not agree.

The point raised, which brought on the flood of heated words was when Attorneys Hersh and Swope declared that the prosecution was not able to produce evidence to show that the alleged denatured alcohol found in the outhouse of Milton Krug's home was an alcoholic beverage having a greater percentage of alcohol than that recognized by the Volstead Act. The local attorneys contended that they could possess "all the denatured alcohol they pleased" without the necessity of a

New York, Nov. 11.—Silence prevailed for two minutes here today in Grand Central Terminal, while thousands stood with bared heads in reverence.

Simultaneously, along the thousands of miles of steel tracks of the Grand Central road, all operations halted.

MYSTERY ABOUT ATTACK ON WOMAN

Sheriff's Office Notified Of Crime Committed Near New Chester.

MRS. RUMMEL'S HAIR CUT

Reports Say $300 Was Stolen By Masked Intruder. Husband Was Away From Home.

Mystery surrounds the reported attack on Mrs. Curtis Rummel, near New Chester, Friday evening, and the theft of a sum of money said to be $300. Mrs. Rummel, according to information from New Chester, was confronted by a masked man or woman while her husband was away, her hair cut and her clothing torn from her body. The sheriff's office here was notified of the crime and Deputy Sheriff Howard Hartman has taken charge of the investigation.

According to reports from New Chester, Mrs. Rummel was at home alone, Mr. Rummel having gone to visit Albert Starnier at Seven Hundred. He was said to have been away from the house an hour and a half. During that time a masked man, dressed in woman's clothes, entered the house and attacked Mrs. Rummel. After she had been overcome, her hair was cut, it is said. She was stripped of her clothing in the struggle, reports say. The man then secured $300 in cash, it is alleged and departed. The Rummel family lives on what is known as the Wert place.

New Chester residents are at a loss for a motive for the attack on Mrs. Rummel and Deputy Sheriff Hartman has not proceeded far enough with his investigation to give a motive or a solution.

The fact there had been a robbery and an attack on Mrs. Rummel was not known by neighbors on adjoining farms today, but Mr. Rummel, who was in New Chester this morning, gave his version of the affair.

LARGE CROWD FOR GAME IN HANOVER

College Band Takes Part In Armistice Day Ceremony In Nearby Town.

The Blue Ridge League baseball park at Hanover was filled this afternoon when Gettysburg College's football team lined up against the Mt. St. Mary's eleven for their annual inter-state contest. This is the first time the game has been played in Hanover. Heretofore the play has alternated between Nixon field and the gridiron at the Maryland school, near Emmitsburg.

Gettysburg, with a record of only one defeat—that by State College—out of six games played, was the favorite. Coach W. W. Wood, although realizing the superiority of his team, declared he was taking no chances and that his first eleven would face the mountaineers, who always are at their best against the Orange and Blue.

Little interest was shown in the game by followers of the Gettysburg team and it was generally predicted the local aggregation would win by 40 points or more. Reports from Emmitsburg, however, were to the effect that Mt. St. Mary's would have the strongest team of the year on the field.

Early this morning the College band went to Hanover to take part in the Armistice Day parade. At 11 o'clock church bells and whistles sounded the fourth anniversary of the ending of the World War and exercises were held in the Hanover Square.

Members of the football squad attended classes this morning and motored to Hanover shortly after noon.

ELECT OFFICERS IN ASSOCIATION

Dr. Shert, of Gettysburg College, Makes Plea For Classical Studies.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN

Attendance Highest Ever Reported. President Urges Show of Activity by Association in Coming Year.

Accepting the recommendation of the committee on appointments without a demur, members of the Parent-Teachers Association in their regular monthly meeting Friday night unanimously voted to elect the following officers for the coming year: President, C. A. Heiges; vice-president, Mrs. A. Z. Rogers; secretary, Miss Helen Culp; financial secretary, Mrs. C. C. Bream; treasurer, George Black.

The meeting Friday night had a larger attendance than has ever been reported at any previous meeting of the Association since its organization. The attendance banners were won by Miss Helen Culp's room at the Meade School, Miss Hattie McGrew's room at the High Street building and by the Freshman class at the High School.

An exhibition of the work which has been accomplished by pupils of the Third and Fourth grades of the Meade School, taught by Miss Helen Culp, was shown to the audience. The young pupils showed their progress in the study of music and their grasp of the subject, by manual illustration, and by drawing tone pictures on the blackboard as they sang to Miss Culp's accompaniment.

Two selections were given by the High School orchestra, followed by a flute solo by Franklin M. Shambach, of Gettysburg College, and accompanied by Miss Lucile Henry. A humorous recitation, in the form of a monologue, was then given by Miss Katherine Musser.

Reports were given by various members of the visiting committee, who agreed in their statements that the schools visited by them had been found in clean and sanitary condition, and that the work being done appeared to come up to the standard, and that the pupils, in all cases, were attentive in the classes.

The Association was urged by the president, that more and greater interest be taken in the activities of the Association during the coming year than had been exhibited in the past, and that the members themselves assume a more active part. The tendency, he said, was for most of them to depend on three or four to do most of the work and put the pep into the meetings. He said that he

PARADE FOR PRISONERS

Have Petition For Violators Of Espionage Act.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 11.—Preceded by a band, and armed with a permit from the Washington police department, 150 men and women paraded today around the White House grounds bearing a petition for the release of the 64 persons who are now serving sentence in Federal prisons for violation of the Espionage Act.

The demonstration started soon after President Harding returned from Arlington Cemetery where he had gone to lay a wreath on the grave of the Unknown Soldier. The parade proceeded along Pennsylvania avenue in front of the White House grounds. It was said that the demonstration was staged under the auspices of the Joint Amnesty Committee, whose representatives have been picketing the White House intermittently for months.

COMPLETE STATE FARM SHOW PLANS

Poultry And Sheep To Be New Features of Exhibition This Year.

Plans were completed in Harrisburg Friday by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture for the seventh Annual State Farm Products Show to be held January 22 to 26. The new features of this year's exhibition will be a poultry show and sheep show. The swine exhibit inaugurated last year will also be held.

Representatives of the various farm clubs of this county are expected to enter exhibits in the livestock and fruit divisions of the show.

The poultry show will be a single breed show, being confined entirely to Wyandottes, and the six types of this breed will be shown. The show will be held each year hereafter in connection with the farm products show, and each year a different breed of poultry will be selected. The prize list for the poultry show alone will amount to $1,500 and it will be the finest collection of birds ever shown in Pennsylvania.

Expect Crowd

The largest attendance in the history of the farm shows is expected this year. The show committee on transportation reported that 30,000 reduced fare certificates are being distributed to farmers and their families.

The horticultural reports indicate that the fruit show this year will be larger than ever, and additional space has been provided.

QUESTION OF PROCEDURE

(By Associated Press)

New Brunswick, Nov. 11.—Only the question procedure is delaying the presentation of the Hall-Mills murder case to the grand jury, Deputy Attorney Mott, in charge of the investigation, has announced. He is undecided, he said, whether to await the return of Justice Parker or try to have another Justice act in Judge Parker's absence.

In the meantime, he said, he would go ahead with efforts to strengthen his case. He made it clear that he considered the evidence in hand strong enough to warrant indictments against two men and a woman, at least two of them on first degree murder charges. It was considered probable here today that Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the slain rector, would be asked to let the authorities take her finger prints for comparison with prints found on a shirt worn by Dr. Hall when he was killed. She is expected to consent.

CALL ON WILSON

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 11.—An armistice day pilgrimage to the home of Woodrow Wilson had been arranged for today under the direction of a committee of women. Delegations were expected from Baltimore and other nearby cities. Henry Morganthau, former ambassador to Turkey, was to deliver a brief address. This was to be preceded by the singing of southern melodies by a chorus and a presentation of flowers to the former president from his native state by little Miss Helen Sue Trinkle, daughter of the governor of Virginia, from his adopted state by Miss Edwards, daughter of the governor of New Jersey, and from the District of Columbia by Miss Olive Chase.

HARDING AT TOMB OF UNKNOWN DEAD

Lays Simple Wreath On Great Stone In Arlington Cemetery.

WAS WITHOUT CEREMONY

Only Roar of Salute And Clattering Troop of Cavalry Break Stillness. Denby And Weeks With Harding.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 11.—On the plain granite block in Arlington Cemetery that a year ago became a new shrine to American ideals, there blossomed today a wealth of flowers laid reverently there to commemorate the first anniversary of the home-coming of America's unknown soldier from France.

Again the nation sealed the covenant of American faith it then pledged beside the grave now covered by the massive boulder and the utter simplicity of the scene today contrasted against memories of pomp and splendor of a year ago in the same beauty of setting, served to add new glory to that which is idealized by the blood of the humble soldier shed in France, the high purpose that is Americanism.

The guns that roared the national salute in honor to the dead alone broke stillness to voice a nation's pride. For the army, Secretary Weeks accompanied the president and for the navy, Secretary Denby. That completed the group which carried to the tomb the token of remembrance that was placed for all the nation. The only touch of ceremony was that lent by a clattering troop of cavalry which escorted the presidential party.

HELD ON POISON CHARGE

Woman Believed to Have Killed Three Husbands.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Another name was added today to the list of deaths under investigation as a result of the alleged poison plot of Mrs. Tilly Klimek and her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Koulik.

John Guskowski died several years ago under mysterious circumstances after a quarrel with Mrs. Klimek, according to the police, who asked relatives of Guskowski to consent to an examination of his body. Three of the five bodies already exhumed are those of former husbands of Mrs. Klimek.

Poison was found in the first two bodies examined, according to coroner's physician. Police say all the dead husbands carried insurance as did Anton Klimek, whose illness from poison led to the arrest of his wife and Mrs. Koulik, now charged with murder.

STOCK REPORT

Renewal of Short Selling Causes Weakness in Market.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 11.—Renewal of heavy short selling, much of it to determine the quality of the buying power, coupled with free offerings of long stocks induced by apprehension over possibilities of unfavorable tax legislation in the new Congress, caused widespread weakness in today's brief session in the stock market. Losses of 1 to 5 points were general. The closing was weak. Sales approximated 550,000 shares.

EXPECT SHIFT IN NEW COMMITTEES

Democrats Expect Larger Representation As Result Of Election.

TO PRESS TAX REVISION

Interest Centered In Appropriation For Enforcement of Dry Law. Sharp Changes Looked For.

Washington, Nov. 11.—There will be 20 more Republicans than Democrats in the next House of Representatives and 11 more Republicans than Democrats in the new Senate. In the House the Republican majority over the combined Democratic and scattering vote will be 17, while in the Senate it will be 10.

In the present Congress the Republicans have a House plurality of 166 over the Democrats and a majority of 165 over all. In the Senate the Republican majority over the Democrats is 24, with no "scattering votes."

By cutting down the Republican majority in the House, Democrats in the next Congress will obtain larger representation on all of the big committees by which the most important legislation is framed. Leaders of both parties began figuring Friday on the new alignment.

As it now stands the Ways and Means Committee, which reported the revenue, tariff and bonus bills, consists of 25 members—17 Republicans and 8 Democrats. As the line is determined by the size of the House majority, Democrats, it was noted, will insist upon a division of 14 to 11. Retirement of Chairman Fordney means that Representative Green of Iowa, ranking Republican, will become chairman under the seniority rule.

Because of the large number of sub-committees which prepare the supply bills, the Appropriations Committee, consisting of 23 Republicans and 12 Democrats, is expected to stand at about that ratio. But all committees now composed of 15 Republicans and 6 Democrats probably will go on a 12-to-9 footing. The Rules Committee, all-powerful of itself, generally stands 8 to 4, regardless of majority.

To Press Tax Revision
The pressing of several important tax-revision proposals was forecast Friday by some leaders of the "progressive" Republicans and the Democrats on the basis of the sharp changes in the sizes of the majorities and minorities in the House and Senate as the result of Tuesday's elections. They said revision proposals would come from both the majority and minority sides.

Chief among the tax plans of the Republican "Progressives" is an impost on the undistributed surpluses of corporations, affecting also stock dividends. Such a tax also is favored by the Democrats, in the view of Representative Oldfield of Arkansas, the minority "whip" and a member of the Ways and Means Committee, which deals with revenue matters.

WILL NAME CHOICE

Milford, Nov. 11.—Governor Sprout has informed Gifford Pinchot, the Governor-elect, that he will appoint any capable man selected by Mr. Pinchot as head of the State Highway Department.

"Now that Mr. Pinchot has been elected," said the Governor Friday when seen at his country place near here, "everything should be done to aid in preparing for his administration. I have informed Mr. Pinchot that if he will give me the name of some capable and efficient man for Commissioner of State highways, I will appoint the man he has selected at once."

"There has been no one appointed since the death of Commissioner Sadler."

SPEND BILLION FOR SODAS

New York, Nov. 11.—The sweet tooth of the American people more than ever is a factor in commerce and trade. Confectioners and soft drink manufacturers in scattered centers reported Friday they expected soda fountains to bring in a revenue of $1,000,000,000, at least, for the year ending December 31. Candy manufacturers all over the country are working their plants overtime to meet the demands of the holiday trade and the shortage of the pecan crop is expected to result in higher prices for those edibles.

SULTAN DESERTED BY HIS OWN GUARD

Only Two Remain On Duty. Rest Deserted To Nationalists.

Constantinople, Nov. 11.—The Turkish Sultan is virtually at the mercy of the Nationalists, should they decide to make a descent in force on his palace and attempt to carry him off, as is feared.

His own guard has gone over to the Kemalists, and only nominal protection on the part of Allied troops seems to be given him. The correspondent in a visit to the palace Friday afternoon found only two guards on duty. Within the palace the monarch is surrounded by seven trusted eunuchs, who remain at his side day and night.

May Appeal To Allies

The Sultan, it is said, may formally appeal to the Allies for protection, but it is believed they could prevent a possible Nationalist coup only if martial law were declared.

Sir Horace George M. Rumbold, the British high commissioner, and General Pelle, high commissioner of France, have been the only visitors at the palace since the decision of the Ankara Government last week not to recognize the Sultan's temporal authority.

Determined To Remain

To friends the Sultan has expressed his determination to remain on the throne unless removed by force. He insists that the National Assembly is not representative of the sentiment of the Moslem world and therefore is without authority to modify the status of the successors to Mohammed, who have enjoyed full temporal and spiritual power for more than a thousand years.

The greatest consternation prevails among the members of the Sultan's household. The Caliph's numerous wives and attendants are engaged in constant prayer that their sovereign be spared. The most devoted of them all is the wife he married two months ago, the youthful Circassian beauty, daughter of the palace gardener.

Owing to the Sultan's depleted fortune he is faced with a difficult problem to provide sufficient food and clothing for the members of his household, some of whom receive a salary equivalent to only $2 a month.

GET BUGS TO KILL BEETLES

Japanese Insects To Destroy Pests Are Received.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The United States Government station at River-ton, N. J., fighting the ravages of the Japanese beetle has received a shipment of insects from Japan which are natural enemies of the beetle.

The State and National Governments have been co-operating in their fights on the ravages of the creature which is believed to have been brought to this section on iris root.

The Tachinid fly just imported, lays its eggs upon the beetle, and when these hatch, the larvae feed upon it, causing its death. The Tipha wasp burrows into the earth and lays its eggs on the grubs. These hatch, and cause the death of the grubs in the same manner that the larvae of the flies kill the beetles.

CLEMENCEAU ON WAY TO AMERICA

"Old Tiger" Impatient To Get Started On His Mission.

TO SPEAK NO FRENCH

Will Discuss International Politics In "Good American English," German Reparations Spoken Of.

Paris, Nov. 11.—Former Premier Clemenceau, who sails today for the United States on a personal mission designed to improve Franco-American relations, spent Friday in saying au revoir to scores of old friends who crowded his little house to wish him luck in his venture.

The veteran statesman was like a schoolboy. The Associated Press correspondent found him in excellent health and looking happy, but exceedingly impatient to get aboard the steamship Paris.

Clemenceau has had his baggage packed for several days, and so keen is he to get aboard the boat that he has decided to leave for Havre by automobile at 6 o'clock in the morning, which, good fortune permitting, will bring him to the pier long before the regular passengers arrive on the special boat train from the capital.

"Well, I'm ready for the Americans," he told the correspondent. "This is a big event in my life, but I think I shall live through it, despite the overwhelming hospitality of the Americans."

Will Speak No French.

"As I am about to depart for New York, I should like all Americans to understand the purpose of my mission. In the first place, I am going to talk in English and, in so far as I am capable, in good American English."

"That is where France has made a mistake in the past—none of its representatives could speak the language of the country. I am not going to speak any French until I get back."

"I am going to talk about all the issues which are international and which concern any country with a world position like America, but I am not going to tell the Americans what they ought to do. I am going to tell them what I think—what I know. They can draw their own conclusions. The Americans are wise; they like the truth, and I am going to give it to them. I know the Americans. I like them. I like them very much. That should make my task easier."

"Naturally I am going to talk about the German reparations and the League of Nations. Why should I not? They are world questions and concern every big nation, even America."

America Unaware of Power.

"I don't think America knows her power in the world today. She is great beyond her imagination. I shall tell them just how powerful they are, and how important this power is to the future of the world."

Clemenceau laughed when he told how he had decided to speak in only four cities and to sail from New York on his return trip on December 13, taking the same boat on which he goes over. "You know a good show mustn't last too long," he said. "The audience gets tired and misses the point."

FINEGAN NOT TO RESIGN

Harrisburg, Nov. 11.—Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, denied Friday he has any intention of resigning.

He said he is satisfied with the co-operation he is receiving in working out his plans and gratified with the results of the election.

Dr. Finegan's statement was made as a result of a report that he was preparing to leave the State's service.

"I am entirely satisfied with the co-operation we are receiving in all parts of the State and with the progress which the education program is making," he said. "I am gratified with the results of the recent election and the bearing which it may be interpreted to have upon the work of this Department. I am not seeking or considering another position."

DREAM SAVES 60 LIVES

New York, Nov. 11.—A woman's dream is credited with saving the lives of sixty dwellers in a Bronx tenement early Thursday.

Mrs. Jessie Barotti dreamed of flames leaping through the house and of muffled foot steps creaking down the hallways. She awoke screaming "the house is afire!"

Under protest, her husband got up, went down the hall, and found a fire blazing near the door of the apartment where slept the wife and six children of a policeman.

The alarm was spread and the sixty tenants escaped without injury before the firemen arrived.

What's New?

The Bertha collar is one of the novelties of the season. So is the high collar seen on the Jacquette blouse and the daytime frocks. Sleeves continue to be extravagant and waistlines and belts follow their irregular habits. The newest belt is the "bolster." It is composed of material as thick as one's finger twisted to make a heavy cord.

ALLIES HALT TURK PACT VIOLATIONS

Declare Government Acting Contrary To 1918 Armistice Agreements.

Constantinople, Nov. 11.—The Allied High Commissioners Friday afternoon handed a note to the Ankara Government representatives here demanding the repeal of all measures relating to the customs, the public debt and the sanitary and other services which conflict with the capitulations and the stipulations of the Mudros armistice agreement of 1918.

Otherwise, says the note, the Commissioners will be compelled to refer to their Governments for necessary action.

Confer With Rafet Pasha

The Allied generals also arranged a meeting with Rafet Pasha, the Nationalist Governor here, to whom they will submit minimum demands with a view to insuring the safety of the troops and efficient control of the police and gendarmerie.

The Commissioners also will discuss the situation at Chanak consequent upon the Kemalist encroachments upon the neutral zone.

The result of the meeting is not likely to be known for some time, but there are abundant indications that the Kemalists are in an intractable mood, an instance of which are new demands for the evacuation of the Allied troops and the withdrawal of the warships.

Ismet Bound For Lausanne

Ismet Pasha, Turkish Nationalist Foreign Minister, left here this afternoon at 1:50 o'clock for Lausanne to attend the peace conference scheduled to begin there next Monday. He was accompanied by Dr. Riza Nur Bey and a suit of military, financial and economics experts.

Hamid Bey, the Nationalist representative here, left Friday or Saturday with several experts on the French steamer Tiger, which is due at Marseilles next Wednesday.

Ismet Complains; Allies Retort

Ismet Pasha, the Nationalist Foreign Minister, in a conversation with General Harington, the British commander-in-chief, on Wednesday complained of the constant proposals to put off the peace conference, which, he said, created a difficult situation. The high commissioners also presented a note to the Kemalist representatives protesting against the "political murder of the journalist, Ali Kemal Bey, editor of the anti-Nationalist Sabah, who was condemned to death by the Nationalist early this week on the charge of subversion."

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 11.—Severe earth shocks were felt in various parts of Chile shortly before midnight and again early today. From various points in central Chile came reports of houses falling and other damage. A report from Antofagasta, north of Valparaiso, said that a tidal wave came in shortly after midnight, smashing small vessels and sweeping over the homes of fishermen and workers. So far no loss of life has been reported but communication lines from many points have been knocked out of order.

SUPPORT VOLSTEAD ACT

(By Associated Press)

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—The 18th amendment to the Federal Constitution with the Volstead act has been voted a part of the California laws by a majority of 29,621 votes returns complete except for scattered precincts indicated today. First returns indicated an overwhelming defeat of the measure but the negative majority was cut down by delayed returns. The dry victory came after prohibition proposals had been voted down at intervals for ten years.

The Fashions Turn to Gold

SHOOTS WIFE AND SELF

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 11.—After a quarrel early Friday, Wilson C. Lowry, sixty-six, of this city, shot and killed his wife, Sarah, then turned the revolver on himself and ended his life.

No motive can be assigned by the police, although neighbors had heard them quarreling before breakfast. Bessie, an only daughter, came downstairs just as the first shot was fired. She saw her mother fall on the kitchen floor and dashed out to a neighbor for help.

When she returned her father was lying on the floor with a revolver clutched in his hand. Both deaths resulted from bullet wounds through the head. Members of the family, while admitting petty disagreements, said they could assign no cause for the tragedy.

"WITH CHEESE"

Chicago, Nov. 11.—One hundred per cent Americanism, so far as menus are concerned and a bit more than 1/2 of 1 per cent of alcohol in mince pies, Welsh rarebits and wine sauces.

These are the main planks in the program of the American Caterers Association, for the attainment of which a battle wages merrily in the second annual convention of the organization. The caterers are tired of deception, according to Jacob Miller, life president of the organization.

"The phrase 'with cheese' is just as smooth sounding as au gratin," said Mr. Miller, "and it means just as much, if not a whole lot more, to the American public. Consequently we are carrying on the battle to print every word of menus in American."

government permit and without molestation.

Tested With A Hydrometer
Fred Kottcamp was the witness when this point was raised, and he immediately took exception with the defense counsel. Kottcamp declared that he knew the fluid found at the Krug home was beyond the pale of law. When asked if he was qualified to give scientific testimony concerning the extent of alcohol in the fluid, Kottcamp pounded the table with his fist and shouted that he knew liquor when he saw it. He said this stuff had been tested with a hydrometer, an instrument used to determine the strength of liquors, and showed a higher content of alcohol than allowed by law.

The local attorneys remained firm, however, in their contention that the alleged liquor had not been analyzed by experts to prove that it was fit for beverage purposes.

Herb B. Kain, of York, a worker in the Anti-Saloon League, conducted the case before Commissioner Wible for Federal Prohibition agent William McClure, of York, by whom the charge against the Krugs was laid.

Before the hearing started formal warrants for the arrest of Milton and Joseph Krug were read by Deputy United States Marshal A. J. Herr, of Harrisburg. Upon the conclusion of this formality, Commissioner Wible read the charge to the defendants, who entered pleas of not guilty through their attorneys.

Tell of Making Raid

William McClure, Federal Prohibition agent was the first witness called. He related the story of the raid on the hotel of which Joseph Krug is proprietor and the residence of Milton Krug, on the afternoon of October 26 last. He told of finding 25 unmarked five-gallon containers in the cellar of the residence of Milton Krug, filled with alleged liquor, and three barrels of similar fluid in an outhouse. The barrels, however, were marked denatured alcohol. McClure also testified that the prohibition officers had been "tipped off" to this cache by investigation of the books of the chemical company operated by Maurice C. Williams, a former Gettysburg man, now residing in York. The dry officers became suspicious, he said, of the large quantities of "liniment" that were consigned to Littlestown from York.

J. A. McIntire, of York, and Fred Kottcamp followed on the witness stand and they told of their parts in the raid in Littlestown. It was during the presentation of testimony by the latter witness that Herb Kain asked the Commissioner to hold the case under advisement because he admitted no analysis of the alleged liquor had been made.

This brought to a close the preliminary hearing in which Milton Krug was the defendant. The Commissioner then went ahead with the charge against Joseph Krug. The same witnesses were recalled and in addition Edward T. Smith, of Philadelphia, another dry agent, and Chester H. Bender, a member of the State Police, who assisted in the raid. Testimony in this action was taken up to the same point as in the previous case after which the hearings were brought to a close.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ECHOES

By Rev. Ralph Baker.

Topic for Sunday, November 12. The Meaning of Church Membership. Matt. 10:32, 33.

The meaning that Church membership takes on in the life of any individual may be as varied as the individuals themselves. Just as everyone has their own "Philosophy of life" and no two have the identical philosophy—so no two church members have the same identical idea of their membership in the Church.

To some Church membership seems little more than something that must be endured in life. To others it seems an affliction. I have known of some who seem to regard it as a disease that preys upon their time (not much of it, however) and especially their pocketbooks (the copper contents suffer most). There are some who, if

I interpret aright, feel that their name on the Church book is an absolute bond of security of their uprightness. I am told that some think of the church membership as an open door into society and use it as such. A business man told me one time that to be a Church member was "good business." I agreed with him heartily until he explained by saying—"You see, since I joined Church I have received much trade from my fellow members of the Church, and every little bit helps."

Now reader, I ask—are these answers the true ones to the questions of what Church membership means? Is that all it means to you? If we are to get the full meaning of Church membership we must know what the Church is. It is the body of Believers with Jesus Christ at their head. It is a mighty army moving on with Christ as Generalissimo against the enemy—sin. It is the hope of the world. It is the one organization that can salvage debauched, down-trodden and sin-stained humanity. It is on responsibility of his final command—the Church that our Lord places the responsibility. "Go ye, therefore, into all the world and teach all nations." It is also to the Church and her members that He promises constant companionship when He says—"Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

In the light of this, does not Church membership glow with meaning? Does it not spring into new life? Is it not a supreme opportunity for service? Is it not a great responsibility? "Yes, it is and more," you answer. Church membership should mean to us all a closer, more definite as well as intimate relation with Jesus Christ. It should mean the linking of our life with the Supreme Fountain Head from whom flows continuously the water of life. Church membership should mean a challenge to each member to give his best to our Savior.

The realization of what the Church membership really is will make our membership in the Church more one of joy and promise. This realization will open our hearts and also our pocket-books, and at the same time quicken us to greater service in His Kingdom. May God grant that Church membership everywhere get a grasp upon the full meaning of Church Membership, and then—"having done all, to stand."

"TERRIBLE"—LADY ASTOR

Plymouth, England, Nov. 11.—"Terrible news," exclaimed Viscountess Astor, American born peeress and one of the two women members of the British House of Commons, when informed virtually all the women candidates had been defeated in the American Congressional election. She added:

"I have too high an opinion of the intelligence of men and women voters in the United States to believe that American women candidates were defeated because of their sex. Their qualities must have been weak. If they had had good, progressive programmes, I am sure they would have won some seats. I regret the defeat of Miss Alice Robertson, but I am not surprised to hear of it. She was too reactionary. Women candidates must take a progressive stand in order to win victories."

Viscountess Astor, who is conservative candidate for re-election to Parliament said that American liquor interests were fighting her. She added:

"America can thank God they have taken the saloon out of politics. But American anti-prohibitionists are here fighting me. They have united with the British and French wets. For the first time I am being sneered at because I am an alien and it is my American enemies who are flooding Plymouth with campaign pamphlets and doing the sneering."

FEAR RUSH FOR TAGS

Comparatively Few Have Applied For 1923 Plates.

The State Highway Department has received only 46,000 applications for 1923 registration of motor vehicles, when there are over three-quarters of a million passenger cars alone to be registered. State officials today made it plain a rush would be expected at the close of the season unless attention were given to early applications.

Shipments of tags began on November 1, but unless there is an immediate increase in applications, a congestion will occur between December 25 and January 1, which will deprive numerous owners of tags for some days, officials say.

"Tom, you spoke correct," said Jim Ladd, in his cool drawl.

"Shore I'm not sayin' what I think," added Ladd. But the look of him was not indicative of a tranquil optimism.

Thorne was put to bed in Gale's room. He was very weak, yet he would keep Mercedes' hand and gaze at her with unbelieving eyes. Then, fighting sleep with what little strength he had left, at last he succumbed.

For all Dick could ascertain his friend never stirred an eyelash nor a finger for twenty-seven hours. When he awoke he was pale, weak, but the old Thorne.

"Hello, Dick; I didn't dream it, then," he said. "There you are, an' my darling with the proud, dark eyes—she's here? Mercedes is well—safe? Oh! But say, I haven't a dollar to my name. I had a lot of money, Dick, and those robbers stole it, my watch—everything. D—n that little black Greaser!"

"Cheer up, Belding will make you a proposition presently. The future smiles, old friend. If this rebel business was only ended!"

"Dick, you're going to be my savior twice over. . . . Well, now, listen to me." His gay excitement changed to earnest gravity. "I want to marry Mercedes at once. Is there a padre here?"

"Yes. But are you wise in letting any Mexican, even a priest, know Mercedes is hidden in Fortorn River?"

"It couldn't be hidden long."

Gale was compelled to acknowledge the truth of this statement.

"I'll marry her first, then I'll face my problem. Fetch the padre, Dick. And ask our kind friends to be witnesses at the ceremony."

Much to Gale's surprise, neither Belding nor Ladd objected to the idea of bringing a padre into the household, and thereby making known to at least one Mexican the whereabouts of Mercedes Castaneda. Belding's caution was wearing out in wrath at the persistent unsettled condition of the border, and Ladd grew only the cooler and more silent as possibilities of trouble multiplied.

Gale fetched the padre, a little, weakened, timid man who was old and without interest or penetration. Apparently he married Mercedes and Thorne as he told his beads or mumbled a prayer. It was Mrs. Belding who kept the occasion from being a merry one, and she insisted on not exciting Thorne. Gale marked her unusual pallor and the singular depth and sweetness of her voice.

Thorne could not be kept in bed, and all in a day, it seemed, he grew so well and so hungry that his friends were delighted, and Mercedes was radiant. In a few days his weakness disappeared and he was going the round of the fields and looking over the ground marked out in Gale's plan of water development. Belding was highly enthusiastic, and at once staked out his claim for one hundred and sixty acres of land adjoining that of would appoint a committee next week, whose duty would be to formulate plans for the coming year that would instill a new spirit into the organization.

An address was given by Dr. Edward Seht, of the department of romance languages at the College. The subject of his lecture was a plea for more of the classical studies for students entering High School.

Declaring that business men are coming to realize more and more the advantages possessed by young men who enter business with a classical education, Dr. Seht said that the emphasis will soon have to be placed upon those subjects by high schools, rather than on a technical training.

The subjects which are pursued by a pupil entering high school should be of such a nature as to give as well rounded an education as possible, he said. Parents in the past have left the choice of studies largely to the pupils themselves, with the result that many have specialized on certain courses, business courses in particular, and there are very few children just entering high school, Dr. Seht claimed, who know what they really intend to do in life, or what they are best fitted to.

Advantages to be gained from a classical course, he briefly enumerated as developing discipline, orderly thinking and culture. Mathematics and science will teach discipline and orderly thinking, Dr. Seht said, and a study of literature and Latin will develop culture, right thinking and correct speech. Literature can be easily taught in the home, he claimed, and said that as a rule the best students came from homes where the growing children had free access to plenty of good books, and were taught to use them.

A study of Latin, he said, helps the student to understand the allusions in English literature, to the mythology and religion of ancient peoples, and it is also a great help in studying the grammar and proper use of English.

HELD MEMORIAL ARMISTICE DAY

Freedom and Democracy for which America stands, that it may lead them forever out of the maelstrom of selfishness and war."

Closing Prayer

A closing prayer was said by the Rev. W. C. Robinson, which was followed by the firing of a volley over the graves by a firing squad of eight Legion men. Taps were sounded, and as the sound died away, the Citizens' Band broke softly into the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

William Weaver was the Master of Ceremonies, and together with William H. Allison, the post commander, led the parade back to town. Marches were played by the band for the parade, both going to the Cemetery and on the return. The line of march held until the post home was reached, where the Legion men broke ranks.

Joseph Williams and Samuel Thomas were bearers of the colors in the parade, Harold Mumper and Walter Swisher acting as color guards. Roy Fissel, Charles Sanders, Vincent Florence, Walter Starner, Roy Miller, F. J. Stokes, William Eckenrode and Harold Florence composed the firing squad. Taps were blown on the bugle at the end of the ceremonies by Lloyd Hess.

On their return to the post room, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Legion furnished luncheon to all ex-service men who took part in the parade.

DRY GOODS WERE WET

Egg Harbor, N. J., Nov. 11.—A Philadelphia man was arrested here early Friday by William Marshall, a State trooper, and will be held for the Federal authorities on the charge of illegally transporting liquor.

He said he is Isadore Zelgin, of 54th and Locust sts. Ten cartons found in his motor car are said to have contained moonshine whisky.

Zelgin was originally arrested for not having his driver's license. When the trooper saw the cartons he inquired what business Zelgin was in. The latter replied, "Dry goods and notions." Marshall said he took a "notion" to investigate and found "dry goods" were "wet."

POST OFFICE NEAR POLE

Most Northern Post in World in Canada.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—As the result of recent voyages of exploration in the North, Canada now claims the most northerly postoffice in the world,—Craig Harbor on Ellesmere Island, only 850 miles from the Pole. Another new postoffice in the northland is at Ponds Inlet, on Baffin Island. Both were established by the Canadian explorer, Captain Bernier, during the latest tour of his schooner the Arctic.

An inspector and six men of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are at Craig Harbor, where they have established a post, while four representatives of the famous police corps represent law and order at Ponds Inlet. Sergeant Joy of the "Mounties" has been in the district a year investigating an Eskimo murder.

The Bernier expedition was sent for the purpose of taking the first steps in an extensive program calculated to maintain efficiently Canada's sovereignty, in the vast northern region, known to be rich in mineral deposits. The vessel carried materials for the construction of houses and provisions for the maintenance of posts.

According to a statement issued by the Canadian department of the interior, it is the intention of the government to establish additional posts year by year, and to continue scientific and exploratory work. A patrol ship will visit the new northern posts annually, taking supplies and mail to the men left there. A representative of the Air Board accompanied the expedition and will report on the possibilities of aviation in the north, with particular reference to patrols, and exploratory and survey work.

BRIDE OF FEW HOURS ILL

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Mary Frances Rider, twenty-two, divorced last month from Maurice Roberts, an artist, was dangerously ill Friday as a result of taking a slow poison a few hours after her marriage Thursday at Valparaiso, Ind., to Arthur Rider, another Chicago artist.

Mrs. Rider, who is a daughter of former Judge P. McGorty of the Appellate Court, said she swallowed six tablets by mistake, thinking they were a headache remedy.

The Judge's daughter caused a sensation in 1917 by running away to become an actress. She married Roberts in 1920. Rider and his bride obtained a marriage license in Valparaiso Thursday and after a priest had refused to marry them, were married by a justice of the peace. Under the Illinois law, a divorced person cannot legally re-marry within the State for one year.

NAME IS VALUABLE

Los Angeles, Nov. 11.—Jean Acker, motion picture actress and former wife of Rodolph Valentino, known as Rodolph Guglielmo until he achieved fame on the screen, has petitioned the Supreme Court for the right to change her name from Jean Acker Guglielmo to Jean Acker Valentino. She declares she has been known in motion pictures by the latter name and desires to keep it for professional reasons.

SCOTLAND YARD HEAD TELLS HOW U. S. CAN CUT DOWN UNSOLVED MURDERS

BY NORRIS QUINN

Nea Service Staff Writer.

New York, Nov. 11.—How should a murder mystery be solved?

How can the increasing number of American murder mysteries that go down in the police blotter as "unsolved" be cut down?

These two questions were answered today in an exclusive interview with NEA Service by one of the world's greatest criminologists, Sir Basil Thomson, K. C. B.

SIR BASIL THOMSON, K. C. B.

Sir Basil for years was head of the famous criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard, London, and during the war was British director of intelligence. He now is in the United States on a lecture tour.

Publicity Helps Detection

While the British criminal expert refused to comment directly on the Hall-Mills murder, he outlined the general principles of criminal investigation which he believes should be applied to mystery murders.

"The whole success of any murder investigation depends on the steps taken at the outset," Sir Basil said.

"Three steps are most important.

"First is the examination of the scene of the crime. This should be done with especial care and, in some

SOLVING A CLUELESS MURDER

How Scotland Yard solved a seemingly clueless murder—told by Sir Basil Thomson, K. C. B., head of the famous criminal investigation department:

"On the night of an air raid the body of a young woman, headless and handless, was found wrapped in burlap sack in a London square. The body bore but one garment, a piece of underclothing.

"Identification seemed hopeless. There was no face. There were no hands, which precluded the use of fingerprints. The body bore no distinguishing marks.

"The locality of the find was roped off and carefully examined. The lone piece of clothing was scrutinized. It bore a laundry mark. Within an hour we had located the laundry and knew who had brought the garment there—a young French woman, recently arrived.

"We checked up her friends. She had few. One was a butcher. We searched his home and found the slain woman's head and hands concealed in a tub of salt. He was hanged."

cases, the locale of the crime should be carefully shut off so that evidence will not be destroyed or the investigators confused by curiosity seekers.

"Second is the holding of an efficient autopsy and the securing of reliable medical testimony. To my mind, the autopsy should be held open as long as possible, for fresh facts will always be uncovered.

"Third is giving to the public in certain cases most accurate knowledge of the crime. That means that many witnesses will be brought to light who otherwise never would have known their knowledge could be of any value to the police.

Sherlock Holmes Methods Not Used

"The inductive methods of Sherlock Holmes and other fantastic detectives of fiction are generally useless in real criminal investigation.

"To detect real criminals one needs a thorough organization instead of the lone-hand activities of a Sherlock Holmes, hard work in place of cocaine and tobacco, full publicity instead of dark secrecy.

"Unsolved murders, you know, are very rare in England. I'll tell you how they're cut down there, though I want you to bear in mind that I am not trying to tell American police how to run their business.

"When a murder is committed, it is listed at headquarters. If it's still unsolved on the second day, it is listed in red ink. That red ink record stands until the case is solved if it takes years.

That's why we do not cease activity in a murder mystery as soon as public interest wanes. You'll hear nothing about a case in the press for months—then suddenly there will be an arrest. We never forget a crime.

"One difficulty American police face is the enormous size of your country which enables a murderer easily to 'lose himself.'

Closer Police Co-operation Needed

"You can overcome this by bringing about closer co-operation between police in different cities and I understand you are doing this. Close association and contact between police heads is desirable but contact between police subordinate is more advantageous.

"I brought this contact between subordinates about in England when I admitted provincial detectives to the London detective school where they studied side by side with London detectives. You are now doing things like that here and should continue to do it more."

Sir Basil has had a colorful career. Born in 1861, the son of an archbishop, he was educated at Eton and Oxford and called to the bar.

He entered the colonial service and became prime minister of Tonga, a Pacific island. He was governor of Dartmoor Prison, of Wormwood Scrubs Prison and secretary to the Prison Commission.

He has been in the criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard since 1913.

The saddest sight on earth is a short man wishing he was taller.

You never have to sit around and beg a phonograph to sing.

Nothing makes a defeated candidate madder than seeing his picture still hanging in a window a week later.

If you can make your handkerchiefs do a few more weeks you will get some new ones for Christmas.

These are ticklish times for those wearing scratchy heavies.

HECKLE ENGLISH DUKE

Unruly Interrupt Speakers in London With Snuff.

London, Nov. 11.—The heckling of candidates during their speeches has become so boisterous at the London meetings that in some cases these are abandoned. Conservative speakers are chosen by the rough element for an unmerciful series of interruptions.

The Duke of Sutherland at a meeting in Eastham said in the course of his speech:

"What is the alternative to supporting the Conservative party?"

A heckler replied: "The work-house."

Throughout his speech references were shouted by the auditors to the Duke's landed estates.

In other meetings the hecklers not only interrupted continually, but blew snuff over the audience arousing such terrible fits of sneezing the orators were forced hastily to cut short their speeches. In some cases where seasoned campaigners are ready with apt replies, the crowd shows its appreciation by allowing them to continue.

At Chisswick a noisy crowd was about to shout down Sir William Johnson Hicks, when he predicted an overwhelming Conservative majority in the next House.

"I'll bet you five shillings on that," yelled a heckler.

"You are on double or quits," shouted Sir William, whereupon the crowd laughingly acknowledged his right to continue.

HEIRESS TAKES ARTIST

Girl With $40,000,000 To Wed Undertaker's Son.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—A simple wedding and a domestic life like other "plain folks" is the plan of Miss Delora Angell, $40,000,000 heiress. She refused titled Europeans for her childhood sweetheart, Lester Norris, twenty-one years old, artist and son of Cal Norris, the village undertaker at St. Charles, Ill.

Miss Angell, nineteen and heiress to the estate of her uncle, the late John W. Gates, announced her engagement to young Norris Thursday night. Their romance began when they attended the village school.

"I always liked Les, even when he beat me in a swimming contest," she said.

"I don't want a fancy wedding," Miss Angell said. "It's going to be a quiet family affair the first of next May."

The heiress said she wants no retinue of servants.

"I don't want a chauffeur," Miss Angell said "I want to drive my own car. I guess we'll have to have a man for the yard and garden. Les isn't very handy at those things. Besides, he will be busy drawing pictures."

HOW THE WORLD FINDS ITSELF

As Made Over By The War

War left the United States beyond any question the greatest and by far the richest of all world powers.

The role of banker to the nations has passed from the London money center to that of New York. The late belligerents all are deeply in debt to America and while repayment in some cases undoubtedly will be long deferred, the fact that these obligations exist gives to this country an authority such as she never before possessed.

It is the fashion in Europe to say that the United States alone profited by the conflict.

It is true that she fought unselfishly and for high ideals. In doing so, undoubtedly she profited morally. In other respects she lost, as every belligerent lost. She lost in men. Financially, by just what she spent, she is poorer. Taxes are higher. Prosperity is returning but deep depression came first. The war left scars.

Politically, as in every country which had a part in the strife, peace brought change in the United States. The Wilson leadership passed. Democrats might have gone out and Republicans have come in, in any case, but the enormous majority by virtue of which President Harding was sent to the White House unquestionably was due to causes growing out of the war.

England

In England the war-time administration in which the two big parties, Liberal and Conservative, joined forces under the leadership of Premier Lloyd George, has but just gone down.

The old party system of government has been resumed, with a Conservative, Andrew Bonar Law, at the helm as premier. The situation is uncertain, however. There must be an election soon and its outcome is impossible to predict.

Britain's strength and wide experience as a trading power has stood her in good stead in recovering from her commercial disorganization due to the war, as is testified to eloquently by the steady appreciation of her money, now not far below parity with that of the United States, and far above it in comparison with most of the other countries of the world.

Ireland, in fulfillment of war-time promises, though not without a prolonged period of strife, has been granted virtual independence within the British Empire.

While it would not be correct to say that England's hold on her overseas possessions, like Canada and Australia, has been loosened, it is a fact that they show a disposition to insist henceforward upon a much fuller voice in imperial affairs than ever before.

France

In France, as elsewhere, the war leader, Georges Clemenceau, is in retirement, and Raymond Poincare, in the premier's chair, is directing the country's rehabilitation.

The dominant thought of the Gallic administration, ever since the invader was driven from French soil, has been collection of the sum exacted, as reparations, from Germany.

France, the most severely stricken by actual war of any of the great powers involved in the conflict, lacked either the enormous resources of the United States or the huge commerce of the British to facilitate her return toward prosperity. Considering the extent of her losses, however, she has made remarkable progress.

Germany

For political change, though all have experienced it, no country in western Europe has anything to offer in comparison with what Germany has undergone.

Ruined at the time the war broke out by an imperial dynasty which seemed as firmly established as any in the world, the country is a republic today, and with small prospect, despite some reactionary mutterings, of a return to anything like the old system, to say nothing of the fallen foyal house.

Financially the situation leaves a great deal to be desired. President Ebert and Chancellor Wirth talk plainly of national bankruptcy unless the Allied reparations terms are materially modified.

In the matter of re-establishing her industries the republic has surprised the world, although her production clearly falls short, perhaps by half or more, of the volume it was believed she was about to attain.

Italy

Italy has had turbulent political conditions to deal with ever since the war ended.

The people were dissatisfied with the territorial award made to their country by the peace conference. There was, for a time, much communistic sentiment throughout the kingdom. This the patriotic organization known as the Fascisti was formed to combat.

Premier Orlando, who was in office when the war ended, was driven out by popular outcry against the terms he was forced to accept at Versailles. Premier Facta, less than a month ago, had to resign in the face of an uprising of not much less than revolutionary proportions engineered by the Fascisti; and the leader of this formidable group, Benito Mussolini, was installed in his place, virtually with dictatorial powers.

Russia

In Russia the overturning has been complete of all.

The czar and his family are gone. Not only the old government organization but the old social order is gone. Civilization, as the western world understands it, seems to have disappeared. Even so radical a regime as that established by Kerensky, when the monarchy was overthrown, was upset by the super-radicals who rule today.

To all intents and purposes Russia has ceased, for the time being, to exist as part of the world.

Others

Of the lesser countries which the war touched it is too soon to say much. Belgium, deeply as she was stricken, is showing wonderful powers of recovery.

Turkey, driven out of Europe, seems certain to come back, perhaps pretty strongly, considering that the sultan is religious head of the Mohammedan world.

Poland and a brood of new little states in central Europe and the Balkans have their respective salvations to work out.

No Trespassing

All persons are warned not to trespass on the premises of the undersigned, with dog, gun or trap for the purpose of taking game in any manner or for fishing or in any way injuring or destroying property. persons violating the laws of the Commonwealth with regard to trespassing on lands of the undersigned will be dealt with under the provisions of the Act of April 14, 1905.

Striking New Red Cross Poster

Chartered by Congress
To Relieve and Prevent Suffering
In Peace and In War
At Home & Abroad

Riveting the attention of the beholder on the fact that the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress as an official volunteer relief organization the dome of the Capitol at Washington, upon which is superimposed a large Red Cross, is the central figure of a new poster for the Annual Red Cross Roll Call. The poster, which has been pronounced one of the most striking of innumerable representations of the famous dome, is the work of Franklin Booth, a New York artist of wide renown. It will be displayed throughout the country during the Roll Call period, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, when the Red Cross membership for 1923 will be enrolled.

Junior Red Cross Praised for Work Influencing Peace

The advancing standard of the Junior American Red Cross made two outstanding gains during the last year—one in the field of domestic activity, which is rapidly linking up the schools with the Junior program, the other a gain of a dozen countries in Europe pledged to organize Juniors on the lines of the American organization. For this accomplishment the American Juniors earned the hearty endorsement of the League of Red Cross Societies for its "creation of an international spirit of human solidarity among young people with a view to preparation of a new civilization for peace."

The forthcoming annual report of the American Red Cross for the year ended June 30, 1922, will show 24,528 schools enrolled, with a total of 4,483,845 pupils wearing the "I Serve" button of the American Junior Red Cross—the badge of unselfish service earned by each individual member through personal sacrifice.

In international school correspondence 736 classes and schools engaged in friendly communication with 623 schools in European countries, 90 schools in United States territories, 13 in South Africa and 10 in a miscellaneous list of foreign countries. The work in foreign fields in establishing playgrounds, school libraries, sewing and manual training classes, homes for war orphans, school reconstruction in devastated areas, encouraging community gardens and many other activities was financed through the National Children's Fund raised by the Juniors at a cost of $338,237.40. During the year $56,922.79 was contributed toward the fund, in which on July 1 there was a balance of $201,361.58.

Greatest Mother Summons Her Children

An allegorical concept of the Red Cross as a peace-time ideal is employed by the American Red Cross in a new and striking poster for its Annual Red Cross Roll Call. Spread out before the heroic size figure is the outline of the United States with a Red Cross superimposed upon it while around its borders are sketched scenes depicting the chief activities of the Red Cross today—service to disabled veterans of the World War, disaster relief and promotion of the public health. The poster is the work of Lawrence Wilbur, a New York artist and will be displayed throughout the country during the enrollment of the Red Cross membership for 1923.

Certain lines of industry may be booming, but we haven't heard that the clockmakers are putting on extra hands.
